Cost of Living Climbs Back to a Record High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs rose in April, climbing back to the record high reached in July and November of last year. The government index went up two-tenths of one percent from March to 123.9 percent of the 1947-49 base. This matched the peak recorded in two months last year.

Announcing the figure today, the Labor Department said that rising state and local taxes helped shove up the living-cost level. Costs of transportation, medical care, recreation and personal care items all were up also.

Food, however, declined one-tenth of one percent, continuing a nine-month drop interrupted only in January.

The new living cost rise was accompanied by a Labor Department report showing the purchasing power of factory workers' earnings also rose to a record level in April. The previous record was in December, 1958.

Spending earnings of factory workers—pay less federal tax deductions—also set a record in April.

Factory worker take-home pay averaged $80.88 per week for the worker with three dependents and $73.14 for the single worker. This reflected both increased wages and premium overtime rates for extra work hours.

Spending earnings of factory workers are now up about 10 percent over the level of last year.

Most of 1½ million workers whose pay rates are geared for a quarterly living cost adjustment based on the government index will receive no change in pay because the change for the three-month period was so small. This includes nearly a million workers in the auto and auto parts industry.

Will Not Call National Strike, Hoffa Declares

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Although he said he favors system and industry bargaining, Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa says his union never would call a national walkout.

Hoffa, making the threat of such a strike in a talk at Brownsville, Tex., reiterated an earlier claim that he had been misquoted.

But Hoffa added he does not intend to have been "victimized" by the press because "I can handle myself."

Hoffa, here to talk with Minneapolis and St. Paul Teamsters, said his union would abide by any restrictions Congress imposes in new laws. "But," he added, "we reserve the right to have the advantages as well as the disadvantages of any new legislation."

Told that Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) had made a speech Thursday night in which he accused Hoffa of a "public-be-damned" attitude, he said Kennedy would "do well to examine his own remarks to see whether he is talking in the best interests of the working man."

Holding himself to be a responsible labor leader, Hoffa told a news conference that a man is entitled to any position the people he represents want to give him. He complained that about a third of the last 18 months he has spent contending with the Senate committee studying labor racketeering.

Hoffa repeated that he would be willing to appear before that group concerning his Brownsville remarks about a national strike. At that time, he was quoted by Whitey Sawyer, Associated Press reporter, as having said, with respect to possible restrictive laws: "The only answer is that if such a law is passed, we would have all our contracts end on a given date. They talk about a secondary strike all across the nation that will straighten out the employers once and for all."

The same quotation was carried by at least two southeastern Texas newspapers.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell called the threat the most arrogant and brazen thing he ever heard.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, is mistaken if he thinks the threat of a nationwide strike will block legislation he doesn't like, Sen. John F. Kennedy said today.

Berlin Hands-off Policy Urged by West Germany

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State, Christian A. Herter told Soviet Foreign Minister, Andrei Gromyko today people all over the world have praised the Western plan for a German peace settlement and have been disappointed by Soviet rejection of it.

In a new round of debate in the Big Four conference, Herter argued in effect that the West is winning and the Soviet Union losing the propaganda battle over their rival German programs.

Herter rebuffed a contention by Gromyko that Western insistence of German unification prior to a peace treaty is a barrier to achievement of European security.

The fact is, Herter said, that it is difficult to see how peace and security can be attained in Europe without reunification.

He urged Gromyko to "give further, and I hope serious, consideration" to the Western plan, which provides for successive, parallel steps toward unification, European security and disarmament.

He welcomed one declaration by Gromyko at an earlier stage of the debate, a statement that Germany should have the right to decide for itself the right to retain alliance ties with other countries. West Germany is a member of NATO. East Germany, less than half its size, is a member of the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact.

After meeting an hour and 11 minutes the ministers recessed for the weekend. They meet again Monday afternoon.

Before the opening of today's session, West Germany pressed the Big Three western powers to get a permanent hands-off pledge from the Soviet Union on Berlin before agreeing to a summit conference.

Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano told a news conference he believes the United States, Britain and France must obtain Soviet "confirmation" of the existing rights of the West in Berlin as a precondition for a summit meeting.

If that commitment could be secured informally from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko here, he said, it could be made the basis for a formal agreement at the summit. It would bind the Soviet Union to accept the right of the Western powers to keep troops in Berlin and to supply them across East Germany.

After nearly two weeks of formal sessions, the Big Four ministers met today.

Bell Formally Denies Rates Too High

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. today formally denied that its Arkansas rates are about three million dollars a year too high and countered with an application for a slight upward adjustment.

The company asked the Public Service Commission to cancel an order requiring it to "show cause" why its rates should not be reduced.

Southwestern Bell then asked PSC to authorize it to boost charges for long distance calls and for service connections and changes in an amount which would increase its gross revenue by about $425,000 yearly.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A spokesman for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. said a response to the Public Service Commission's demand for a rate reduction would be filed before expiration of today's deadline.

He gave no indication what form the reply would take. The response, however, obviously will deny the PSC contention that Southwestern Bell rates in Arkansas should be cut about three million dollars a year.

Company officials have disputed the commission's assertion that Southwestern Bell earnings were too high by that amount.

In an unusual action, PSC some weeks ago directed Southwestern Bell to "show cause" by May 12 why its rates should not be reduced.

The commission said Southwestern Bell apparently had earned well above the six percent return on investment customarily considered a fair rate of profit for a utility.

The company issued a statement claiming that its rates were in line and that its returns was within PSC limits.

On the day the company was to have filed a formal response, it asked PSC for a 30-day extension. Instead, the commission granted one of 10 days.

PSC has indicated that company resistance to the proposed reduction would result in a full-scale rate investigation.

25 Arkansans Die From Tuberculosis

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Statistics released by the Arkansas Tuberculosis Assn. yesterday showed 25 Arkansans died of tuberculosis last year and there were 1,085 new cases of the disease reported.

R. H. Schneck, executive director of the ATA, said Arkansas' death rate was 13.5 per 100,000 population. The national average is 17.

The deaths are unnecessary, since modern drug treatment and surgery can cure tuberculosis if the disease is detected early enough.

New cases increased 45 percent in 1957 figure, Schneck said. The 1958 total of known tuberculosis cases in Arkansas was 7,750.

Fantastic Cuba Counter Plot Is Uncovered

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A fantastic plot to start a counter-revolution in Cuba was uncovered today when U. S. Customs officials found an arms loaded plane and its 11 passengers at Miami International Airport.

The four-engine C-47 transport plane was reported ready to take off for the Dominican Republic when the agents arrived. Ten men and one woman were taken off the plane.

In addition to the 11 arrested at the airport, officers said Augusto Ferrando, Dominican consul in Miami, was wanted. Ferrando was in the consul building.

Others taken into custody included Joseph Loquari, a Miami policeman who once worked for the Dominican government and another man who was identified as a Newark, N.J., businessman.

Inside the plane, agents found rifles, automatic weapons and 200,000 pounds of ammunition reportedly destined for delivery in the Dominican Republic to friends of Fidel Castro, the Cuban dictator in Cuba.

Six Plead Innocent in Gang Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Six men who attended the Apalachin, N.Y., gangland conference pleaded innocent today in U.S. District Court to charges of obstructing justice in connection with the meeting and were released on bail totaling $132,500.

The six were among 27 named in a sealed indictment returned May 13 and opened Thursday by Judge Edmund L. Palmieri.

Seven of the defendants pleaded innocent Thursday.

Other defendants are expected to plead today and next week.

All the defendants were charged with refusing to divulge the reasons for the update meetings, and three were charged additionally with perjury in lying before a federal grand jury regarding the meeting.

Those arraigned today were: Pasquale Turigliano, 53, Endicott, N.Y., whose bail was set at $80,000; Ignatius Cannone, 34, Endicott, N.Y., $15,000; Louis A. Larasso, 33, Linden, N.J., $15,000; Frank T. Majuri, 50, Elizabeth, N.J., $25,000; John C. Montana, 66, Buffalo, N.Y., $40,000; and Anthony R. Riela, 66, West Orange, N.J., $7,500.

Federal agents seized 21 of the 27 and are searching for six more in one of the biggest federal crackdowns on organized crime.

Governor to Tell School Board Stand

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus will tell the public about his stand on the school board recall election during a radio-television speech tonight.

Up to now the governor has skirted any flat statements on his attitude toward the controversial issue.

Newsmen reminded him yesterday that he had previously announced a hands-off policy on next Monday's election.

"You know I'm involved in the matter what happens," the governor said.

"The bitterness is growing," he added, "and there are some things going on in the city that are very bad."

He did not elaborate.

In the past, Faubus has had the backing of board members Ed J. McKinley, Robert W. Lester and Ben Rowland. Recall of these three is sought by the Committee to Stop This Outrageous Purge (STOP) because they fired 45 teachers and administrators recently.

Faubus opposed board moderates Ted Lamb, Everett Tucker Jr. and Russell Malsom in last December's election, calling them integrationists. Recall of this trio is sought by the Committee to Retain Our Segregated Schools (CROSS).

Names of all six board members will be on the ballot.

The Rev. M. L. Moser, chairman of CROSS, charged in a television speech last night that STOP sought to re-institute the city's court-approved plan of integration. He said the plan would integrate Central High School, attended by a majority of Little Rock white students, and leave Central High segregated.

Moser said all STOP leaders lived in the Hall High attendance area and their children would not have to attend an integrated school.

Moser, pastor of the Central (Missionary) Baptist Church, said "the vast majority of the people of Little Rock have been a victim of a gigantic fraud."

The integration plan was devised by former Supt. Virgil T. Blossom. It called for integration of high school grades in 1957 and gradual desegregation of other grades.

Moser asserted that Blossom worked out the plan even before the school board was elected.

Wheat Price Support Limit Set at $35,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—A move to limit any farm price support loan to $35,000 sprouted in the Senate today.

Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.) proposed it as an amendment to a bill for a new wheat program.

Last Wednesday the House put a provision for a $50,000 ceiling on the annual agriculture department appropriation bill.

For several years, Williams has been reminding the Senate of the size of some price support loans. There have been payments of over a million dollars to some big farmers and farm corporations.

As the Senate began consideration of the wheat bill, there was an expression of opposition from Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and a tart retort from a Republican senator.

Sen. Milton R. Young (R-ND) said of Benson's views: "The most absurd, ignorant thing I have ever seen."

Benson's opposition was set out in a letter. He said the bill probably would further increase wheat production and costs of the government program.

Young doesn't like the bill either but he said Benson was wrong as to its probable results. The senator contends the bill would lower wheat prices.

The measure was drafted by the Senate Agriculture Committee as a stopgap plan for trying to come to grips with the problem of a huge wheat surplus.

Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel (R-Kan.) said the committee bill "was the rankest kind of compromise but aimed at meeting a deadline."

Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) of the Agriculture Committee agreed with Schoepel. He noted that Benson must announce price supports and control features for this year's wheat crop by June 1, only 10 days away.

In considering the bill, senators actually had a choice of four widely varying wheat programs.

FBI to End Investigation of Lynching

MEMPHIS (AP)—The FBI will end its investigation of the lynching of a Mississippi Negro at Poplarville and will turn the case over to the state, it was reported yesterday.

In a dispatch from Poplarville, the Commercial Appeal quoted unnamed sources as saying FBI agents failed to turn up any proof that Mack Charles Parker was taken across a state line while alive.

This ruled out the possibility of federal prosecution on a charge of kidnapping, the dispatch said.

Parker was awaiting trial on a charge of raping a pregnant white woman when a band of hooded men dragged him from the unguarded jail in Poplarville April 26. His body was found a week later in Pearl River.

The newspaper said the 40 FBI agents working on the case had turned up considerable evidence, and possibly some signed statements to identify some of the men who snatched Parker.

Evidence gathered in the case would be turned over to Gov. J. P. Coleman if the federal government makes a final decision to step out of the case, the dispatch said.

Asked what he would do if the case were turned over to him, Coleman said: "I'll cross that bridge when it is reached."

Contract Awarding Delayed by Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley issued an order yesterday restraining the state Highway Department from awarding a $1,320,370 road construction contract to the Ollinger Construction Co. of Fort Worth, Tex.

The Ollinger firm has filed suit to get Henley's contract, Ollinger was low bidder on the job, a grading project in Mississippi County, but contends it made an error in figuring the bid.

E. C. Ollinger, company president, said it would "work financial ruin" on his firm if it had to complete the contract.

Crucial Test Next Week on Ike's Money Bill

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—The annual House drive to cut President Eisenhower's money requests, currently a 200-million-dollar success, faces a crucial test next week.

That 1 per cent cut may be tossed into reverse by bills to finance the Defense Department, the Commerce Department, the public works programs. These measures, along with a bill to provide congressional operating funds are due to reach the House floor.

Among them they call for an appropriation of between 40 and 50 billion dollars.

How closely Congress follows the President's recommendations on these bills will determine to a large extent the size of the federal budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1. The bills give Congress a direct control over spending. The control is not complete, however, since considerable spending comes from money provided in previous years and from nonappropriation bills allowing Treasury withdrawals.

With one exception, every big 1960 appropriation bill considered this year has been cut by the House. None of them has been acted on finally by the Senate, which often increases the House figures.

The Senate Appropriations Committee did just that Thursday, adding $35,061,000 to the amount the House voted for the Treasury and Post Office departments and the Tax Court.

The committee sent to the Senate a bill to provide $4,628,097,000 to run the three agencies in the coming year. That still was $25,168,400 less than Eisenhower asked.

The single exception to the House cutting drive was a bill providing $3,307,669,081 for the Welfare Department and related agencies. This was $181,349,300 more than the President requested.

This was more than counterbalanced by cuts of about 200 million in two bills financing the Agriculture Department and a group of independent agencies whose funds are allotted in a single bill.

In all, the House this year has considered or has before it presidential requests for about $20,300,000,000. It has approved about $20,100,000,000 of this amount, assuming it follows the Appropriations Committee's recommendations for financing of the State and Justice departments which will be voted on next week.

Starkweather Given a Stay of Execution

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Charles Starkweather, condemned to die for murder, was granted a two-week stay of execution.

U.S. Dist. Judge Richard Robinson of Omaha granted the stay so Starkweather, on appeal to the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals from the denial Thursday of his application for a writ of habeas corpus.

The acting Nebraska penitentiary, warden, John Greenholtz, gave first word of the 11th-hour development to newsmen and witnesses as they arrived at the prison during a thunderstorm to witness the execution.

Greenholtz said he received the word in a telephone call from Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to Gov. Ralph Brooks.

Conrad said Judge Robinson, after studying and conferences through the early morning hours, found that Starkweather had been without the help of counsel in his habeas corpus effort.

The 20-year-old condemned killer had sought the writ on grounds his constitutional rights had been violated.

Conrad said Judge Robinson told him he had worked on the case since 2 a.m. had conferred with the chief justice of the appeals court and with Lincoln's U.S. Dist. Judge Robert Van Pelt who had rejected the habeas corpus application.

Thursday's application for federal court action had been delivered to the court by Starkweather's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Starkweather.

After Judge Van Pelt's ruling Guy Starkweather had resigned himself to the execution.

"I can't see that I can do anything more," he said.

Charles "was hoping we could do something to the very last," he said.

With the execution set for about 9 a.m. (CST), 20-year-old Starkweather was to have paid with his life for a murder rampage 16 months ago.

Eleven knives and gun slayings were blamed on — and admitted by — the cocky killer.

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Killer Charles Starkweather has been granted a stay of execution. Acting Penitentiary Warden John Greenholtz announced today.

Greenholtz said he received the word in a telephone call from the governor's office scarcely an hour before the 20-year-old mass killer was scheduled to die in Nebraska's electric chair.

It was presumed the stay came from the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which has judges in Omaha.

Hoffa (D-Mass.) says the union president has been quoted as threatening such a strike if Congress should pass restrictive labor legislation. He has denied the statement, which was attributed to him in a speech at Brownsville, Tex., last Tuesday.

Kennedy, in a speech here Thursday night, said Hoffa threatened such a general strike such as those which have paralyzed less stable nations with less powerful governments in the past.

Hoffa was reported to have said that a nationwide halt would be ordered if Congress placed unions under antitrust laws.

"I have never favored placing unions under antitrust laws," Kennedy said.

His labor bill, already with Senate approval, contains no such provisions. Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) has announced he will introduce a bill proposing to do just that, however.

Such a law would fail to correct corruption or racketeering in

Two Negroes have been charged in municipal court with passing out the letters which bore the signature of Dr. Drew P. Agar, STOP president.

Suit Filed Against Teacher for Whipping

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Harold Ray Thacker, 16, filed a $615 damage suit yesterday against Frank L. Williams, principal of Southwest Junior High School, for an alleged whipping the boy received at school.

The suit charged that Williams whipped the youth with a belt March 19 and that the boy was injured. It asked $101 for medical and doctor bills, $18 for loss of wages, and $500 punitive damages.

Williams "would comment" only that the boy was punished for violating school regulations.

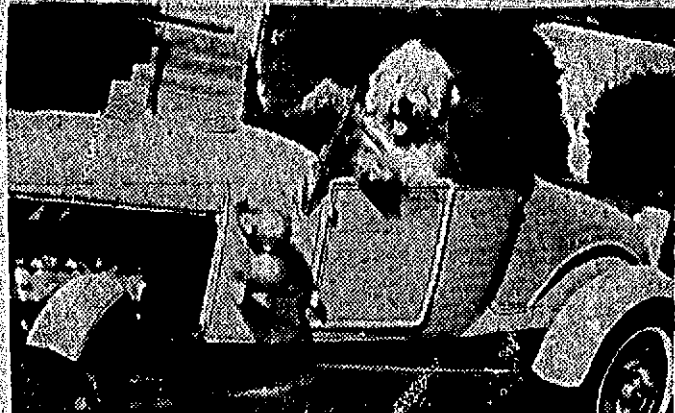

Thacker, dropped out of school May 6, records showed.

the labor-management field, Kennedy said.

"If Mr. Hoffa feels that any and all legislation in this area can be stifled by his threats of pressure, if he thinks the legislative processes of this nation are going to falter and halt as a result of his strong arm tactics—then he does not understand either the American people or the Democratic 86th Congress," he said.

In Minneapolis, Hoffa retorted: "The senator might do well to examine his own remarks to see whether he is talking in the best interests of the working man."

Berlin Hands-Off

lers are now moving into a new phase in which they expect shortly to get down to hard-boiled bargaining in secret over the Berlin and summit issues.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and Von Brentano decided today the bargaining will have to go on in small secret gatherings over lunch and dinner tables. These will parallel the big meetings at the Palace of Nations—making this a split-level conference.

"She did it decently!" "It's that old deed. It's gone to her head, Mrs. Jensen. I think it's only right I should try to find out if that deed's any good before she leaves. If it's worthless, maybe I can keep her from squandering all her uncle's money. You know where Kathie keeps it?"

"But I don't know as I should—the woman began alarmed.

"Shes mad at me, so it's no use asking her if I can see it again. I want to get the survey off it and send a cablegram over there and find out if that deed's been recorded. There's no harm in doing that, is there?"

Mrs. Jensen was trying to imagine what Mr. Jensen would say. The deed was Kathie's property. But on the other hand, Buck was Kathie's future husband, acting for her own good.

"I'll try to get it for you, Buck," she whispered, feeling like a conspirator.

"I'll come back tonight," he said. "After Kathie's in bed."

"She'll likely go to bed early," Mrs. Jensen whispered.

"Okay," Buck said, and vanished from the door.

The dresses hanging in Kathie's closet, none of which she had yet worn, were a symbol of the dream she still could not always believe in.

But today the dream seemed faded and dim, and she thought of Uncle Job's old deed and went to the strongbox to get it out again, to pore once more over the cryptic words in the fine old-fashioned script.

She went to her closet shelf and felt under the red valentine candy box for the key. It was not there!

She had a moment of panic. Her steamship ticket was in the strongbox, too. She ran to tie box. It was where she had left it, only casually hidden behind the boxes that held her new shoes. And it was still locked.

She returned to the shelf and anxiously felt along it. Almost immediately her fingers touched the cold metal of the key farther down the shelf. Hurriedly she opened the metal box. The ticket was safe, and so was the deed. But Kathie stood looking down at it, her idea of reading it over again all gone. She was trying to remember exactly what she had done the last time she opened the box.

"I know I put the key under the red heart box," she told herself. "I chose the box because I'd remember it!"

ence developing partly open and partly secret. Informants also said the Western ministers adopted a strategy of patience for dealing with Gromyko. They decided they can't wait him and need not make the first overtures to get the talk about Berlin started.

Soviet sources are passing out word that Gromyko is not in any hurry either. They say he is prepared to carry on the deadlock indefinitely.

For today's debate at the Palace of Nations, the Western ministers deployed their forces as for a military campaign.

The session began at 3:32 p.m. (8:22 a.m. EST).

Herter was assigned to discuss European security, and Couve de Murville was given the problem of Berlin to talk about. Lloyd was named cleanup man with the task of replying instantly to Gromyko if he launched into a new attack on the West.

In calling at his news conference for a Soviet pledge on Berlin, Von Brentano said the Soviets should also display a genuine readiness for a solution of the German question before the Western government chiefs agree to a meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Von Brentano told a news conference the Soviets also should display a genuine readiness for a solution of the German question before the United States, Britain and France agree to a meeting of government heads with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Von Brentano did not reply when asked if he had formal assurance from the Western Big Three that they would refuse to attend a summit parley if the Soviets would not assure Western rights in Berlin.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter already has warned Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko that President Eisenhower will refuse to attend a summit conference if the Soviets set some new deadline for a Communist squeeze play on Berlin.

Khrushchev originally demanded that the Western powers withdraw their garrisons by May 27. He postponed the deadline indefinitely to clear the way for the Big Four conference to discuss the future of Germany and the Berlin issue.

As the second week of the conference here drew to a close, the Western ministers expected Gromyko to abandon his sharp attacks on Allied military policy after a stiff warning from Herter.

Search Continues for Missing Boater

MOAB, Utah (AP)—A six-man crew walked the rocky banks of the Colorado River southwest of here today in the hunt for a missing boater.

They were looking for Frank A. Rich, 66, of Lakewood, Village Calif. Rich, his wife, son, and daughter-in-law, were thrown into rapids of Cataract Canyon Sunday when their pleasure boat capsized.

Rich was last seen clinging to the overturned 16-foot boat as it hurtled down the boiling rapids about 40 air miles southwest of here. The other members of his family were rescued. Wreckage of the boat was spotted in the canyon later.

Chevy pickup pulls through "bottomless" pastures to keep stock fed!

At the Hall Bros. Dairy Farm, Montgomery, Ala., they say this 4-wheel drive Chevy will go anywhere to keep stock fed—even through hub-deep muck that makes it a fight all the way. And yet after a full year of it—no mechanical trouble of any kind!

That Chevy pickup may not win any beauty awards (till it's cleaned up). But it's sure walking off with the top prize for dependability. And that's standard Chevrolet procedure. Put a Chevy truck to work and it keeps

We aren't claiming that every Chevrolet truck is turning out to be a miracle-worker and averaging 100,000 miles before a valve job. (Even though some are going 150,000!) You're sure to find, however, that you can't buy more truck dependability at any price. And that's borne out by the fact that more truck owners put their faith and their pay loads in Chevrolets than in any other make.

Take your load and schedule figures to your Chevrolet dealer. He'll specify the best way to handle both and save in the bargain.

Journey To Love

By VIRGINIA NIELSON

(C) 1959 by Virginia Nielson Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Against every one's advice, Kathie Ebberts has bought clothes and a ticket to Hawaii out of a $1,500 legacy from her Uncle Job Hammer.

Buck's face was working as he handed the ticket back to her. "How can you possibly think your deed is worth anything?" he asked her angrily. "Who do you suppose has paid taxes on that land all these years? Not Job Hammer, I'll bet!"

"I don't know," Kathie said, a stubborn note in her voice. "Auntie said she'd give it to me."

"You're not going, Kathie," he said. "It's crazy! It's even crazier for you to go over there alone than what you said last night."

"I've bought my ticket," Kathie said.

"You can turn it in," "And I suppose I can take the clothes back, too?"

She put her hand out to him. But Buck had turned angrily away. "You needn't bother about the clothes," he muttered. "I can finish without you."

Up in her room, Kathie began opening boxes and putting her purchases on hangers. The new dresses looked out of place in her shallow little closet, alongside the cotton housedresses and the inevitable shirts and jeans.

The blue linen, with its tucked front and tiny cap sleeves and flaring wide skirt, was irresistible. She stepped hurriedly out of the black suit and slipped the dress over her shoulders. The blue of the dress heightened the blue of her eyes and seemed to cast a blue light over her

"leaming" black cap of hair, with the Dutch cut bangs that still looked strange to her.

Kathie stared at the transformation in wonderment. "But you don't belong here, either!" she whispered to her reflection.

And suddenly her tremendous excitement of the morning came rushing back. "I'm going!" She felt a little frightened, realizing that she really meant it. "We didn't know about the money when we decided to get married, and if I send it out, I'll find the deed is worthless. We'll have just as much."

But she still had to crowd down a feeling of guilt. If she really loved Buck, wouldn't she want to stay here and get married?

"But I do love him," she told herself. Yet even as she voiced her thought, she recalled Buck's urgency up in the eucalyptus grove the morning Uncle Job had died, and the frightened clamor it had set up in her heart.

"Why not admit you're afraid?" she asked her reflection.

Jensen looked up, startled by a quiet scratching on the screen door. Buck Landers stood there in the twilight, his solid figure completely darkening the door.

"Where's Kathie?" "Upstairs, I think," Mrs. Jensen said, curiously in her eyes.

"Come in, Buck."

He shook his head. "I don't want her to hear us." He beckoned the older woman closer.

"Do you know what she did to town today? She bought a ticket to Honolulu."

Mrs. Jensen's jaw dropped.

DOROTHY DIX

Helpless Hubby Proves An Unnecessary Luxury

Dear Dorothy Dix: When my husband married six years ago we weren't married in our late 30's. We didn't have a lot of financial start, but I worked steadily and he worked about half time. I didn't know it at the time of our marriage but he's a very temperamental man. He's never satisfied with a job, so he's most of them after six months. He's moody and crabby around the house, often not speaking for days at a time. The least little thing sends him into one of his sulking moods. He has delusions of grandeur about going into business for himself and has already made two ventures. Both of them, of course, failures. For financial backing he used money I had saved before our marriage. His present venture is a small restaurant, in a good section of town but the business itself has been allowed to run down. We'd have to borrow for this one. If not, I'd have to borrow since he has no credit rating. I'd like the business since I'm a good cook and like people. I'm sure I would be able to work it even when his enthusiasm runs down as it will in a few weeks. However, I cannot do it if he keeps going on these moody binges. I can cope with one or the other, but not both. — Annabelle

Dear Annabelle: It's a man hasn't acquired a sense of responsibility by the time he's past 40, he never will. Your husband is a luxury to be enjoyed with resignation, as long as you can afford him. Otherwise— This business deal would be a good thing for you. You have energy, intelligence and seem well qualified to make it work. Keep everything entirely in your own name, since you will be the responsible party anyway. Coax or drive your husband to do everything he can to help. Tell him in strong, plain language that he can stay with you as long as he's cooperative but, since you can't cope with heavy temperamental, he must leave if he gets sulky. He has never known discipline and it's time he had a dose of it. He can't give you security but the least you should demand is a good disposition. If he can't contribute that to your marriage, worry along without him.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I wonder if you could help me. I got my hair cut last week and now I'm just sick over it. It was almost to my waist and now it's a very short Italian cut. Do you know anything to make it grow fast? — Mrs. C. L.

Dear Mrs. C. L.: Hair grows fast in the normal course of events. There are several hair tonics that may hasten growth but the results would be too noticeable. Your short hair probably looks very nice. Why not accept it as an interesting change and a conversational piece until your tresses are long again?

Dear Dorothy Dix: My problem concerns my so-called best friend, Kathy and I have been close friends for a few years. Late in 1956 I noticed that many of the things she has told me are lies. I've tried to overlook this but things are just getting worse and worse. Should I embarrass her in front of others or tell her about it in private? — Brenda

Dear Brenda: Please don't make a public spectacle of the girl's failing. Help her instead. There must be a reason why she lies. Ask her in a very friendly way why she does it. Probably she's trying to boost her ego. With your assistance she can find another — and better — way.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and a dollar for her care of this newspaper. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Yankees Could Escape Cellar in 24 Hours

By ED WILKS
AP Sports Writer

The New York Yankees could escape the cellar in 24 hours. By winning the first two games of their four-game set against the Baltimore Orioles, the Yankees could jump to sixth place—17th in the standings—better than split two games at Cleveland, and Washington can take two from sixth-place Boston in that span.

This is no pitch to resurrect the Yankees. But it does point out that it's a bit early to start the requiem for the champion.

The task of pulling out of the cellar doesn't figure to be easy. The Yankees have lost four in a row to the Orioles, who are third, just 2½ games behind first-place Cleveland. And the Birds will have their surprise ace, right-hander Hoyt Wilhelm (5-0), on the mound.

Manager Casey Stengel will start his ace Bob Turley.

Only one game was scheduled in the AL Thursday and Boston won it with Tom Brewer and Leo Killy blanking Kansas City 5-0.

Philadelphia ended its losing string at eight with a 3-0 decision over the Chicago Cubs on Ruben Gomez's four-hit performance. Pittsburgh ripped St. Louis 7-2 in the National League.

The Red Sox busted loose for all their runs on homers by Jim Busby, Jackie Jensen and Dick Gernert, who made his god for three in the eighth.

Ned Garver (3-2) dropped his fourth in a row to the Red Sox.

Avila Now Belongs to Boston Sox

BOSTON (AP)—Bobby Avila, 1954 American League batting champion now sporting a muck 170 average, today is the property of the Boston Red Sox. General Manager Bucky Harris purchased Avila, 30, from Baltimore Thursday for an undisclosed amount to strengthen the infield reserves and the pinch-hitting corps.

The island of Mons, off the west coast of Puerto Rico, is rich in deposits of guano, a nitrogenous fertilizer.

Lawn Tennis Group Picks Nominees

SEATTLE (AP)—The U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn., casting a positive eye on the huge silver bowl that denotes world tennis supremacy, Thursday nominated Peruvian Alex Olmedo and 10 other as preliminary 11-man Davis Cup team for 1959.

Olmedo, a University of Southern California student, almost singlehandedly wrested the Davis Cup from Australia last year. The Peruvian won two singles matches and teamed with Ham Richardson for a doubles victory.

Naming of the preliminary cup team came only a few minutes before Davis Cup team Capt. Perry Jones presented the huge trophy to Victory Denny of Seattle president of the USLTA.

Named along with Olmedo to the preliminary Davis Cup team were Earl Buchholz Jr., St. Louis; Chris L. Crawford, Piedmont, Calif.; Barry Mackay, Dayton, Ohio; Bernard Barzen, Dallas, Andrae, 195, Compton, Calif., 10; Brownsville, Tex.; Oterio, Molina, 120, Corpus Christi; Stoppel, Fajardo Gonzalez, 112, Reynosa, Mexico, 4.

Boise, Idaho—Rogue Maravilla, 176, Nampa, Idaho, outpointed Cal Brad, 171, Oakland, Calif., 10.

Tokyo — Mochiro Tatumu, 154, Japan, outpointed Fumio Koizumi, 151, Japan, 10.

Allison also will serve as baseball coach for Harding, which recently was admitted to the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference.

A&M Coaches Have Resigned in a Group

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas A&M College's three-man athletic staff resigned in a body yesterday with strong criticism of the school's board of trustees.

Signing a joint letter of resignation were Willis (Convoy) Leslie, football coach and athletic director; Spencer Holt, assistant football coach, and Troy Bledsoe, basketball coach.

Bledsoe's intention to resign already had been announced.

"We want everybody to know that everything is not all right at A&M," they said in a press conference.

They affirmed loyalty to Dr. Horace Thompson, college president, but indicated they felt no loyalty to the board which has been at odds with Thompson for some time.

The coaches also criticized the board for entering in the public record board discussion of proposed raises for the coaching staff. "We consider this a slap," they said. The raises were rejected.

The Arkansas Gazette reported last year that a board faction headed by Bessie Byburn, Monticello auto dealer, had been trying to oust Thompson and replace him with Lee Reaves, former Warren radio station owner.

Reaves since has been hired as a vice president of the college at a salary of $5,000 a year. Thompson earns $10,000.

The coaches, in the letter of resignation, said they found themselves unable to operate within the athletic budget which recently was cut considerably.

Leslie's football teams have had fabulous success in his four seasons, winning three Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference championships and tying Arkansas Tech for the 1958 crown.

The letter was to have been presented to the board at a meeting scheduled yesterday, but the meeting was postponed until Monday.

Lecture Seems to Have Paid Off for Pirates

By ED WILKS
AP Sports Writer

Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh might be wondering why he didn't speak up sooner. His lecture on curfew and all didn't sink in until he shuffled the lineup, but then his sixth-place Pirates got the idea.

Thursday night they put aside a slump that had draped them with four defeats in five games and scored a 12-hit, errorless 7-2 victory at St. Louis.

Murtaugh, who reminded his Bucs of the club's 2 a.m. curfew after they lost the Tuesday opener at St. Louis, shook up the lineup after they were whipped again Wednesday. He replaced shortstop Dick Groat with Dick Schofield and made Rocky Nelson his first baseman in place of the alternating Ted Kuszewski and Dick Stuart.

The worst skid of the year came to an end in the only other National League game scheduled when the Philadelphia Phillies, who had lost eight in a row, won 3-0 at Chicago behind Ruben Gomez's four-hit pitching.

Boston beat Kansas City 5-0 in the only American League game scheduled.

The Pirates ripped into Cardinal right-hander Lindy McDaniel (2-5) for three runs in the first inning then scored three in the third against reliever Ernie Broglio.

Southpaw Harvey Haddix (3-2) was the winner.

Gomez and Cub rookie, Bob Anderson had a shutout dueling until the eighth. Then the Phils, who had managed just two hits, scored twice on singles by Willie Jones and Gomez, a double by Sparky Anderson and sacrifice flies by Jim Hogan and Richie Ashburn.

Rookie Giving Pros Run for Money

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Tom Veech of Milwaukee, a rookie with a host of old pros breathing down his neck, held a narrow lead today in the $25,000 Memphis Open.

The 20-year-old golfer, playing in the 10th tournament of his professional career, jumped ahead of the pack with a 7-under-par 63 first round that equaled the competitive course record.

Veech toured the 6,300-yard Colonial Country Club course in 21:22. Par is 74-36-70.

In pro scrambles, Veech has yet to win. And the two pros running hard behind him — Al Bessink and Jay Hebert — haven't won one in so long they've forgotten how it feels.

Bessink, of Grossinger, N. Y., overcame two bogie holes to turn in a 32 - 33 - 65. Hebert, of Lafayette, La., overcame a bogie start for an identical score.

Looking at 66, were five of the circuit's big boys — Art Wall Jr. of Pocomo, Mo.; Pat Pease of Odessa, Tex.; Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla.; Ernie Yarbrough of Lakeland, Tex.; and Doug Ford of Paradise, Fla.

The best selling book in 1958 was "Common Sense" by Tom Paine, selling 100,000 copies in 1958.

Teachings of Church Rapped by Minister

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A North Carolina pastor charged today that Southern Baptist theologians are teaching that Christ's virgin birth and resurrection may be viewed as myths.

The criticism was considered likely to stir an uproar at the denomination's annual convention, Southern Baptists always have firmly stressed traditional doctrines.

But as the church representatives from across the country went into their first day's sessions, the Rev. James S. Bulman of East Spencer, N.C., issued a statement saying:

"I have what I consider clear and conclusive evidence that under the official supervision of the seminary president, Southern Seminary is teaching so as to allow that the resurrection of Jesus Christ is a myth, and that the virgin birth of Jesus Christ is a myth."

He told newsmen he will present material backing up his charge in a special period set this morning for considering a simmering dispute at Southern Baptist theological seminary here.

The incoherence of the 100-year-old seminary, oldest in the denomination, has been brought in question as a result of the firing last summer of 13 professors.

The Rev. Mr. Bulman, a perennial critic of denominational procedures and fervent advocate of all-but independence of local congregations, said he has been informed that the professors were removed for "not holding the historic Baptist doctrinal position."

Seminary officials have said doctrinal questions did not enter into the professors' dismissals. Dr. Duke K. McCall, the seminary president, has emphasized that teaching there is loyal to orthodox theological position without undermining academic freedom.

Declares Few Teachers for Integration

LITTLE ROCK, (AP)—One of three Little Rock School Board members who voted to fire 44 teachers and school employees said last night some of the 44 had made statements viewed as favorable to integration.

Ed J. McKinley, board president, also called a controversy stirred by the dismissals "a diabolical plan to move integration into Little Rock through an apparent defense of the teachers."

McKinley, in a radio speech, said the teachers' statements were given to State Police during an investigation of the Central High School integration dispute.

He quoted one teacher as saying even in the event of integration by 250 to 350 Negro students in Central High "everything would work out." He quoted another as saying: "I see no reason why integration does not work at Central High."

McKinley did not identify any of those quoted.

"Do you want teachers who have these beliefs teaching your children?" he asked his audience. "As long as I am on your school board, you will not have."

The Committee to Stop This Outrageous Pure (STOP) is campaigning for the recall of McKinley and the other two board members who voted for the firings, Ben Rowland and Robert W. Lester.

Segregationist groups are seeking recall of the board's three moderate members, Everett Tucker Jr., Ted Lamb and Russell Matson Jr., who boycotted the meeting at which the teachers were dismissed.

An election that will give voters a chance to recall or retain all six men will be held next Monday.

McKinley foresaw "another resounding victory" for segregation and states' rights in the election.

Aerial Spray to Fight Fire Ant

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—An aerial-spray assault against the crop-destroying fire ant is set to begin Monday on about 20,000 acres in Union County.

The program is a joint project by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Arkansas Plant Board and local officials. Cost of the attack is about $37,000, with $40,000 furnished by the federal government; $12,000 from Gov. Orval E. Faubus' emergency fund, and $5,000 by the county.

Storm Leaves 23 Dead in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—A violent storm swept out of the city early today, leaving 23 dead. Most of the victims were slum dwellers killed in landslides that roared down steep hillsides into their deaths.

The death toll from Wednesday's ferryboat accident was reduced to two. Maritime police at first had estimated eight drowned. The ferry sank within sight of its docks after a 20-minute run across stormy Guanabara Bay to Rio.

Bible Comment

CHILDREN OF THE BIBLE
 By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
 So far as I know no one has made a special study of children of the Bible, or listed the times and interesting situations in which they appear. Yet such a study has a bearing on the nature of religion as well as upon the worth and welfare of the children.

Outstanding is the Christmas story of the birth and infancy of Jesus himself, the rejoicing of the shepherds, the prophecies awaiting the Messiah, the blessedness of Simeon performing "the custom of the law" (Luke 2), and the Magnificat of Mary (Luke 1:46-55).

There is the Boy of 12 disputing with the Doctor his Temple, and that is all concerning His childhood, except the assurance that "Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man" (Luke 2:52).

Next is the portrayal of Jesus blessing the children: "Suffer little children, and forbid them not to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven." (Matthew 19:14) "And He laid His hand on them."

The disciples who would have rebuked the mothers and would have sent them away are not untypical of the many in all ages who undervalue children.

The worth of a child demands the value Jesus placed upon the children, the "little children."

There are other children in the New Testament. There was the anonymous lad with "five barley loaves and two small fishes" (John 6) who appears in the feeding of the multitude, though Matthew and Mark mention the loaves and fishes but give no credit to the boy.

There was the little maid, presumably dead, whom Jesus restored to life (Matthew 9:18-26). There was another maid (Mark 14:66) whose anonymous fame is not so worthy; it was she who accused Peter of being of the Master's company. Revoking his bitter denial. Why should the

Contractor Wants Out of Road Bid

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A contractor who said he mistakenly had made to low a bid filed suit in U.S. District Court yesterday to stop the Arkansas Highway Commission from awarding him a $1,329,370.65 contract.

E. C. Ottinger, operator of Ottinger Construction Co. at Fort Worth, Tex., blamed an error for his low bid. He said the firm bid 48 cents per cubic yard on cost of some material when the bid should have been 83 cents per cubic yard.

Knights of Pythias Elect New Officers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Raymond D. Thums of Hot Springs was elected grand chancellor of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Domain of Arkansas, at the organization's 70th annual session which ended yesterday.

He succeeds Don H. Sloat Jr. of Fort Smith.

Other officers include K. C. Wolfe of El Dorado, grand vice chancellor; Elmer Wilson of Hot Springs, grand prelate; Robert D. Lee of Little Rock, grand secretary; and J. W. Prince of El Dorado, grand treasurer.

maid have sided against Peter. Children can often be unnecessarily cruel.

Apart from the Gospels the most interesting "child" of New Testament is the grown man, Timothy, Saint Paul's companion and "son." It is to Timothy's childhood in a Christian home under the upbringing of his mother, Eunice, and his grandmother, Lois (II Timothy 1:5) that Paul finds the source of Timothy's worthiness.

In the Old Testament the outstanding children are the infant Moses, rescued from the bulrushes by Pharaoh's daughter, and Samuel, child of his mother Hannah's prayers, growing up in the Temple.

Others there are, but space does not permit of their mention here.

Says Russia Won't Launch Rocket on U.S.

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told a group of American business and professional men Tuesday that the Soviet Union never will launch the first rocket against the United States.

But he said that the children had better look out—the bug of communism will get them.

Khrushchev, evidently in a good humor, told them he was happy to see 45 Florida businessmen and after a 70-minute interview took them out into the Kremlin garden for photographs.

Notes on the conversation were given by Ralph A. Renick, vice president of TV station WTVT of Miami, president of the Radio-TV News Directors Association, and Thomas J. Flannery, president of the First Bank of Boca Raton, Fla.

"I can assure you that we will not be the first to use our weapons against you," Khrushchev said.

Later in the talks he said: "Who can guarantee that your grandchildren years from now will have the same views that you do? We won't start a war. We will not strike first and you will not allow any crazy people to start a war. Therefore there will be no war but you are as afraid of communism as of the devil himself."

"The bacilli of communism may enter the brains of your grandchildren. Therefore take care of the brains of your grandchildren," Khrushchev predicted the Geneva Big Four foreign ministers conference will be successful "or we would not have participated in the first place."

He declared the U.S.S.R. is willing to go a long way to get results. He repeated what he said earlier that he dislikes the package plan proposed by the Western powers.

"The Western powers have proposed a draft which calls for a united Berlin to be set up," he said. "In other words they proposed that the government of East Germany should give up its own capital, that of East Berlin."

"Is that government supposed to transfer its capital somewhere else? Is it supposed to transfer it to Mars or Jupiter? No reasonable person can hope for a solution on that basis."

The city of Baltimore was founded in 1729.

Two Drown in Weiner Stockpond

WEINER, Ark. — Two young brothers drowned in a stock pond near their home four miles north of here yesterday.

One died trying to rescue the other. Neither could swim.

The victims were Carroll Layne, 11, and Jerry Layne, 12, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Layne, who operates a tenant farm five miles north of Weiner.

Raymond Mathews, 11, who was wading in the pond with the brothers, said Carroll stepped into a hole and Jerry went to his aid.

Mathews, a home-swimmer, ran for help. The bodies were recovered.
